Vol XXXII Issue VIII August 2023

ON THE ROAD Jim Briggs

Well another month gone and Nancy and I just got back from an exhilarating time at MATG. We met a bunch of fine Miata folks and drove some new roads that we missed last time. Got stopped by a significant fog issue driving over the Cherohola Skyway but we all made it down safely.

Turnout was light for the July meeting so let's rally for better a better turnout for this month's meeting at the Catfish Round-up in Seminole Aug 20th at 5:00 pm. We will update about a pre-meeting drive soon.

The Fiesta is scheduled for Sept. 16th from 5-8 pm. Don't forget if you paid for the birthday party your payment will be applied to the cost of the Fiesta. Those of you who did not pay for the birthday party, the $10 cost per person for the Fiesta can be paid to David prior to the party.

Stay safe and cool until we meet again.

Leading a Drive

- Communication! Bring your GMRS radio This is very strongly recommended. If you end up leading without one, make sure that the car behind you has a GMRS radio and keep checking for a signal from them.
- And More Communication! Make sure the last car in the line has a GMRS radio so you'll know that the end of the line didn't get lost or hung up. It also helps if the last car is a distinctive color (i.e., not red) so you can make a quick check in the mirror to see that we're all there. If the group is large, try to get GMRS radios spaced throughout the line.
- Watch your speed, especially while the caravan is going through areas where there are lights and stop signs. It can get like crack the whip'. The end car has to really motor to catch up to the lead car after waiting for 15 cars in front to get through a stop sign. You may have to go under the speed limit for a while until everyone catches up.
- If we're in a highly trafficked area, and can safely do so, double up (fill both lanes) at traffic lights / left turn lanes /stop signs so as many of us can get through the intersection as possible. If we get broken up, we will regroup at an appropriate location.
- If there are more than 10 cars, consider splitting the group in two. Consider splitting into groups based on comfortable speeds, as well.
- Keep the group together. Slow down – or pull over – until everyone is back in line.
- Observe all traffic rules and regulations. Be courteous to other drivers. Don't expect that everyone will let the entire line go at once. If they don't that's ok. They don't have to. Don't block public access or block traffic trying to get the line together.
